

Software Engineer (m/f/d) – Medical Software Development

Within the iSYMED GmbH - a 100% subsidiary of B. Braun Avitum AG - we are looking for a Software Engineer (m/f/d) for Medical Software Development at our location in Butzbach, Germany.

Your responsibilities

- Work in an Agile environment where teamwork is at its best, no exceptions
- Design, develop and test solutions for data exchange with German authorities in the medical area
- Produce clean and high-quality code
- Diagnose defects and provide effective solutions
- Work closely together with authorities as well as end customers
- Provide development estimates
- Be a part of technical discussions and planning sessions
- Take part in architectural decision sessions
- Support, coach and share knowledge with other team members

Your qualifications

- 3+ years of professional experience in C#.NET
- Experience with SQL databases and database modeling
- Experience with the design and development of intuitive user interfaces
- Knowledge of Microsoft Visual Studio is essential, DevExpress components is a plus
- Teamwork!
- Self-motivated, initiative and passionate about your work
- Ability to step in new technologies and tasks
- Fun, positive attitude
- Very good knowledge of German and English language

What we offer

Become part of a corporate culture that actively promotes constructive exchanges between colleagues, customers and partners. Work with us to improve people's lives in the long term. We can offer you interesting, varied tasks and excellent opportunities for advancement, as well as an attractive salary with extensive benefits, all within a dynamic family-owned company.

Closing Date

17.01.2021

Your next step

Please contact the contact person below via e-mail, telephone or in person.

Contact: B. Braun Avitum AG | Christine Hellwig | christine.hellwig@bbraun.com